

On average, the Hadley circulation is composed of two cells in the northern and southern hemispheres that circulate air within the tropics.

 More details

 NOAA Climate.gov - Climate.gov

Idealized cross section showing the circulation associated with the Hadley cells in the northern and southern hemisphere.

 Public Domain

 File: NOAA Hadley cell cross section.jpg

 Created: 19 May 2014

 Uploaded: 19 January 2023